Finland Shop tries to bring some light also to people from different countries who are interested in Finnish products but do not know much about us. Their most common questions are: What products are Made in Finland? What is Finland known for? or even What kind of food do they eat in Finland?

Finnish products are world-known for their quality. Buying Made in Finland or Designed in Finland the clients can be sure it is something very good.

The Finns and the Nordic people have high social and environmental responsibility - The nature of the nordic people reflects in everything they do, in studies, work, business, arts, sports, and in the entire Finnish culture.

Some of the Finnish brands you already may know while others are very Finnish things - The Finns love salmiakki and lakritsi a sort of licorice sweets. Mostly Finnish Expatriates can eat their black sweets alone and in peace, very few other people like them.

The products or companies in Finland Shop have their origin in Finland or are owned by a Finnish enterprise.
